W. P. HOWELL, Editor.

DALHOUNE, GA., MARCH 9, 1877.

The State Convention will have 188 delegates.

The Ninth District voted 18,266 in the last election.

The United States Court convened in Atlanta last Monday.

Hon. H. P. Bell was nominated at the Gainesville Convention last week.

Gov. Nicholls, of Louisiana, has ordered an extra session of the Legislature.

Thos. Natrall has been arrested in Northeastern Alabama for robbing the mails.

Turnbull and Rucker came very near having a fight at the Gainesville Convention.

There were 733 bills introduced in the House, and 184 in the Senate, making 917 in all.

The convict labor of four years, given to the Marietta and North Georgia Railroad, will amount to about $87,000.

A new Methodist Church in Boston is to be the largest belonging to that denomination in America, and will seat 5,000 persons.

Mr. James, of Fulton, is of the opinion that the Constitutional Convention, if one is called, ought seriously to consider the question of abolishing a portion of the Legislature altogether.

Kentucky's great pear tree was planted in 1811—sixty years ago. It has reached the huge dimensions of eight feet in circumference, and in sixty years there have been probably from 700 to 800 bushels of fruit gathered from its branches.

A son of Senator E. P. Howell, aged thirteen, fell in the elevator from the third floor of the Constitution office, Atlanta, to the bottom of the building, a distance of forty feet, one day last week. His injuries are thought not to be fatal.

Dr. Redfield says he has seen the Tennessee Legislature do more in one day than the Georgia lawmakers seem able to get through in a week, although the Georgia Assembly is twice as large as that of Tennessee, and the former costs more in one year than the latter does in six.

An English factory inspector says that "cleaning machinery in motion continues to lead to very numerous and painful mutilations." In the half year ending April, 1876, 126 persons were killed in England by factory accidents, 481 amputations were necessary, there were 260 fractures of limbs or bones, and 2,193 other injuries—in all 2,497 males and 769 females.

Paper car wheels have been slow to win favor from American railway managers. It is said, however, that they are to be adopted by several English railway companies. The London Echo describes the process of manufacture, from which it appears that the paper wheels are to be made in Sheffield, and according to the "American process." The advantages claimed for paper wheels are greater elasticity and greater strength in proportion to weight than can be obtained from metal wheels and the same wearing qualities, steel tires being used.

Memorable American Duels, from the Hamilton-Barr to the Bennett-May affairs, are described and illustrated in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for March, just issued. This Monthly is certainly a marvel of excellence and cheapness. There are also interesting papers on "The Lord Mayor of London," 15 illustrations; "Sketches of Silbers," 12 illustrations; "Fish," 24 illustrations; and a number of stories, short articles, etc. Within a year, the Popular Monthly has gained a circulation exceeding that of any other American magazine. It must be pronounced the favorite family monthly of America. Our readers will do well to send $2.50 to Frank Leslie, 537 Pearl Street, New York, and receive the Monthly for one year, or 20 cents for sample copy, postage free.

Mr. Hayes' Inauguration.

Our space is too limited to publish the inaugural address of President Hayes. But we have read it closely, and the following editorial taken from the Macon Telegraph & Messenger speaks our ideas exactly: "Mr. Hayes' inaugural contains a great deal that, in general, is right and proper, but with the single exception of the resumption of specie payments, it commits him to nothing at all—any more than a general essay on public administration would do. He goes in for peace and good nature—public honesty—civil service reform—is opposed to political proscription—deprecates party spirit—wants the people educated, and insists on good manners and politeness in general—But Grant did the same, and then wound up by substantially outlawing everybody who did not belong to the ring. Whether Hayes will follow suit remains to be seen; but we think Chandler, Morton, Sherman & Co., grinned in their sleeves at his talk about civil service reform. We shall see what we shall see. Mentally, we have a little more respect for his careful avoidance of every declaration that he has been elected by the people. He could not mouth that expression, which shows that he has still some scruples."

Frog Mountain Affairs.

The vicinity in which Lieut. McIntyre was killed is thick with revenue officers and soldiers, and seems to be in a deplorable condition. Nothing is being done on the farms, men are being arrested and lodged in jail while many are fleeing. A correspondent of the Marietta Journal writing from Frog Mountain, says: Newspapers quote the number of bushwhackers or illicit distillers in the recent fight, about thirty. I have been informed by good authority, that they numbered seven all told—four men, one boy, and two women. But the mountain boys have been reinforced and have laid in a good supply of ammunition and one thousand soldiers cannot root them out of their mountain den. If they make another attempt to arrest them, it will be a bloody affair, and it is daily expected. They would not resist the regular revenue officers or soldiers, but they do not intend to be picked up or pointed out by men who are just as guilty as they are, who have turned against them and reported them for the sake of a little money, and to get clear themselves.

Republican Candidate.

The Republican party of this, the Ninth Congressional District, has picked up courage from the action of the recent nominating convention, held at Gainesville, and waltzes to the front with a full-fledged Republican candidate—Col. M. R. Archer, P. M. of the above named city. We met the Colonel upon our return home from Atlanta, and he seemed confident of his election. We sincerely hope that the Colonel will ever be attended by the bright vision of hope, but hardly think it will ever become a reality, as the Republican element in this section is very weak, and is only kept up in very parts by returning boards. See his record of announcement in another column of this issue.

More Negro Trouble.

It appears from a dispatch from Charleston that some of the negroes are again making trouble in South Carolina. A mob of one hundred fired upon the Sheriff's posse for attempting to arrest one of them who had resisted an officer, some miles below Charleston, a few days since. A posse of two hundred men from that city proceeded to the scene to disperse the rioters and arrest the ringleaders, succeeded in capturing about twenty, the balance having fled without firing a gun.

Released.

Mr. Holt, and his three sons, of whom we made mention last week, as having been arrested on suspicion of the murder of Lieut. McIntyre, which occurred in Gilmer county some weeks ago, were tried in Atlanta last week and came clear. Mr. Holt, together with his family, left for Texas directly after their acquittal, and were to have been captured in Nashville. This gentleman has again set out on his journey.

The Nomination.

Mr. Thomas' card, which appears elsewhere in this issue, is his private opinion publicly expressed, and not those of the SIGNAL & ADVERTISER. He talks however, with the bark on, and we admire his pluck.

Hayes.

Governor Hayes, while en route from Fremont to Columbus, passed an hour in Springfield, Ohio, on Monday, and being introduced to the people, made a brief speech. He expressed congratulations that in a week's time this business, which had occupied the attention of the country for eight months, would be over. He hoped that the people would acquiesce quietly, whoever might be declared elected. He believed the country desires peace and security. He thought this idea should be the expression of the people to their representatives at Washington. Realizing his lack of special fitness for the duties which he might be called on to perform, he placed his trust in Almighty God, who rules the destinies of nations.

A General Pardon of Revenue Prisoners.

From the Atlanta Constitution of 6th inst., we see that a general pardon was granted by the President on the 3d to all revenue prisoners who would plead guilty to the charges preferred. Hosts of them have already complied with the requirements of the order and have been released, whilst others are joyously receiving the poor unfortunate. Sixty-nine pleaded guilty and were discharged by the U. S. Court on Tuesday last in Atlanta, upon the conditions stated in the proclamation. A direct pardon is not granted, but the effect is all the same. "Go thy way in peace, vote for the Republican candidate for Congress from the Ninth District, and sin no more," is the parting injunction of Potash Farrow to those who live in the Ninth.

Plain Talk.

It seems from dispatches received from New Orleans, that the Democrats of Louisiana mean business. One of the members of the Nicholls Legislature has offered the following:

"We, the representatives of the people of Louisiana, duly elected by and direct from the people, fully aware from positive knowledge of the feeling and determination that impel and control them, do declare that under no circumstances will we people of the State pay tribute to any other State government than that at whose head stands the man of their choice, the endeared and truly-elected Governor, Francis T. Nicholls; and do further declare the utter impossibility of gathering taxes by any other authority, and by any attempt to gather them by other authority will not only provoke, but lead to lamentable civil strife, if not to bloodshed and actual war."

The Constitutional Convention.

Mr. Editor: There is no doubt now that a Convention will be called under the Act of the late Legislature to revise the Constitution of Georgia by which the people of the State are to be governed perhaps for generations to come.

The making of the Constitution, the organic law, is the gravest and highest act of sovereignty that can be performed and should bring into requisition the virtue wisdom and patriotism of our best men. Under the law our Senatorial District is entitled to two delegates. Old Lumpkin we think ought to send one of them, and either Dawson or White county the other. The Hon. Wier Boyd has been suggested by many citizens as the delegate from Lumpkin, and we strongly endorse the suggestion. Col. Boyd is a delegate from this county and helped to make a good Constitution of 1868, and has been before that a member of the House of Representatives and also of the Senate of the Georgia Legislature, all of which positions he filled with honor and distinction. Let old Lumpkin and the 32d Senatorial District claim his services in this crisis.

A COUNTRYMAN.

Hayes and Wheeler Declared President and Vice-President.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—After the vote in the House not to count Sallace's vote, Randall announced that the Chair had allowed every legitimate legislative motion. The duty to notify the Senate of the decision is mandatory. Several propositions were overruled, when Cox said: "There is no endeavoring to prevent the Speaker from counting in Hayes at once." The Speaker said: "Gentlemen must not object. The Chair has no authority to receive any motion." At 11 o'clock the Senate entered and Vermont was voted for Hayes, and Virginia and West Virginia for Tilden, and finally, after preparation and a two hour's discussion, Wisconsin was counted for Hayes. At half-past 4 Mr. Ferry said, "This concludes the count of the thirty-eight States. The tellers will now ascertain and deliver the result." Senator Allison, one of the tellers, declared the vote—Rutherford B. Hayes, 185; Samuel J. Tilden, 184. Wherefore, Ferry said: "I announce Hayes and Wheeler duly elected President and Vice President for four years commencing March 4th, 1877." There was a solitary hiss. The Senate then retired, the House adjourned, and the flag was lowered for the first time since February 1st.

Sue Die.

Departed this life, in the city of Atlanta, on the night of the 22d inst., at 12 o'clock, at the solemn rap of the gavel, the well known and right honorable body, the Georgia Legislature, aged 42 days. Its life was an eventful and billious one, full of pleasing passages, good resolutions, amendatory acts, and multitudinous local enactments. Its death was not unexpected, but anticipated, for it was sickly from the beginning and many prophesied that it would not live out "all its days," owing to a severe affliction of "retrenchment and reform" that suddenly developed itself after its birth. The system of the reducing disease in the first stage of its existence, was indeed, alarming, and indicated a speedy dissolution, but as day dawned and night drew on, this child of the people of Georgia, drew on its seven dollars per day, a nourishment upon which it seemed to thrive, a morphia that allayed all the racking pains and bodily anxieties superinduced by the dreadful "malady," retrenchment and reform, which apparently had seized upon its vitals with a deadly grip. One cheering sign, however, gave hope to its friends. Its motions were frequent and healthy, and from that observation on, it fought the wasting disease extravagantly, with a sign of "one born to rule the storm" and happy to relate by frequently administering the curative medicine, "seven dollars per day," (prepared and sold by those eminent druggists, the People of Georgia,) its existence was prolonged beyond the constitutional limit allotted by the great law of the commonwealth. And even then when the physical twinges of this disease played upon its nervous system, it was enabled to come off more than conquer through "non-concurrence and indefinite postponement." Thus with a heroism born of indomitable persistency and a sublime love of country and seven dollars per day, it triumphed over the ravings of conscience and spasmodic motions and the virtue of "retrenchment and reform" was successfully eradicated from its system and laid "upon the table," for future reference and analysis. It was an apt child and wise in its day and generation and as it has passed peaceably to the realms of shadowy history, we drop a tear to its memory, devoutly hoping that the ghost of the man of Ode may never disturb its rest, and that the little Commonwealth of Georgia, peacefully, joyously and regally, peacefully, as it is caused, &c., &c., may bask in the light of a new State Constitution drawn upon our people. Then indeed can it be said,

—Marietta Journal.

Our Trip to Gainesville.

Last week we concluded to go to our neighboring city and attend the Congressional Convention. So in company with our colleague, Mr. G. B. Neel, and Hon. David E. Butler, we put ourselves in Lewis Meaders' hack with Lewis holding the ribbons behind four fast horses. All of us said it was the easiest and most comfortable ride enjoyed in many a day. Lewis Meaders is a born driver and has the easiest and best riding vehicles ever put on this line. We soon arrived in Gainesville and found all, or nearly all, the delegates ready for the conflict. Several gentlemen were ready with patriotic devotion to sacrifice their personal ease to be Hill's successor in the American Commons. After the Convention flurry was over, we looked around the city one day and right glad to note the busy hum of city life. We hope at an early day Gainesville will have her burnt spots rebuilt with fireproof buildings and otherwise keep up the march of improvement.

Again getting into the admirable vehicle of Meaders we struck out for Dalhousie. A rain having fallen in the mountains, Chantalochee was up and "booming." Our irrepressible and most excellent driver, undaunted, plunged in with hack and all and began to swim. We began to feel "jubilant" but Meaders said he was running the thing and skill and discretion, and finally landed "high and dry." It was bully—ride swim and kill. Hurrah for Gainesville and the driver of the Ninth.

The following circular was handed me a few days ago, just read what it says in regard to the "quiet nomination" of the Hon. H. P. Bell, and the element of U. S. Soldiers and Marshals: "For Congress, Hon. H. P. Bell, of Forsyth. This gentleman was nominated by the Democratic party, in convention assembled, quietly, and to the satisfaction of all concerned at Gainesville, on the 28th instant. It was, however, demonstrated, at the close of the convention, that there was an element, who favored the election of Mr. Spear, and they raised a yell for him. This element consisted of a few U. S. Soldiers, deputy U. S. Marshals and Revenue officers, who are always ready to take anything in opposition to this portion of our Congressional District and who are not in sympathy with us. Let the people of the mountains come out on the 13th instant and roll up a large majority for the Hon. H. P. Bell, who is in sympathy with this country. For the truth of this statement you are referred to the delegates from your own counties. "Friends of the People." Yes, so far as the yelling is concerned, it is true, but it was done by a majority of delegates assembled, and not by an element of U. S. Soldiers, U. S. Marshals and Revenue officers." The "quiet nomination" is a mistake—won't do gentlemen to bulldoze the "mountains" on at this late day. Petition the Governor to postpone the election and call another "proxy" convention, and see if you could "quietly" nominate by acclamation. "Quietly" come out, mountaineers, and every body else, on the 13th instant and cast your vote for Emory Spear. We are not for "rule or ruin," neither are we in favor of "pledged" conventions, as the one held at Gainesville.

J. B. Thomas.

The New York Sun in speaking of Fraudulent Hayes, says: It is a very serious matter, cheating the people of the United States, and forcing them to accept a President whom they have not elected. The President so inaugurated should be made to feel this fact and the rebellion of the people against such an unparalleled wrong and outrage. He should be made to feel it daily and hourly—that he is only tolerated, and is nothing more than a Fraudulent President.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

To the Voters of the 9th Congressional District:

We are authorized to announce the name of Col. M. R. Archer, as a Republican candidate for Congress from the Ninth Congressional District.

THE CELEBRATED LOCK-STITCH,

(the stitch invented by Mr. Howe), alike on both sides. The machine is positive for both upper and lower thread. The shuttle tension is upon the thread as it leaves the needle, and not upon the bobbin as in most machines, and this tension is invariable, whether the bobbin be full or nearly empty. It is obtained by turning a screw in the shuttle, and can be changed in a moment, without taking out the work, breaking the thread or threading through holes. What we claim, in substance, is that this is so.

HONEST MACHINE,

and if you in your daily will do any and all of your work perfectly, without a life time, is a willing and ready servant, and is not subject to FITS. Persons who have tried all machines are unanimous in declaring this to be the easiest learned of any in the market.
In the majority of cases our customers learn from the instruction book without further aid.

Rev. John K. Murphy was born, on the 6th of Jan. 1836. His early boyhood was spent in Charleston,

S. C.

He professed faith in Christ and was baptized in Columbus, Miss.,

by the Rev. Thomas C. Teasdale.

On the 24th of Jan. 1859, he was licensed to preach the gospel and the year following entered Howard College, Alabama.

The first note of the war bugle called him from the more peaceful walks in life to the tented field through winter's cold and summer's heat he stood firmly to his post. In the battle of Missionary Ridge he was left upon the field, by the restating Confederates, his right leg

having been shattered by a cannon ball. His limb was amputated upon the field, to which he submitted with heroic fortitude. Falling into the hands of the enemy, after months of suffering, during which time he languished in a Federal hospital, he recovered his health sufficiently to return to his native South, and on the
